

In-House Consultancy Service

MD Advisory Limited offers an in-house service for larger clients who either do not have an international assignment management department or who need more resource at key times.

For example...

- ▶ Are you struggling to pull together salary and benefits details for your tax return service provider?
- ▶ Are you finding your tax return service provider is charging you extra for analysing and compiling data?
- ▶ Are there small questions arising in-house that you wish you could answer?
- ▶ Do you find that you miss out on planning opportunities because you weren't aware they existed?
- ▶ Do you discover that some item of remuneration wouldn't have been taxable if the assignment was structured another way?
- ▶ Do you struggle to get the correct costs built into the budget?

MD Advisory Limited will not replace your tax return service provider rather they will complement them. We will liaise between you and your tax return service provider, ensuring you get the service you want and need from them. Experience shows that using a service like this actually improves the relationship with the tax return service provider as frustrations disappear on both sides over lack of understanding, poor communication, excess fees, etc.

Tax advisers and HR managers do not always speak the same language and even the simplest question like "Where is this assignee resident?" end in confusion over the information required and answer received. MD Advisory Limited understands the requirements of both parties and will make sure that the question asked and the answer received are the right ones and therefore clear and meaningful.

WHO IS MD ADVISORY LIMITED?

MD Advisory Limited was set up by Melissa Dunkley. She joined Ernst & Young's graduate trainee programme in 1992 within their Expatriate Tax Services department, where she qualified as a Chartered Tax Adviser. She later moved to KPMG and became a senior manager in their International Executive Services group. She left KPMG in 2005 and set up MD Advisory Limited to provide expatriate tax and social security advice to smaller companies and to bridge the gap between larger companies and their existing advisers. Many years of working within the Big 4 means she understands what it is they are expecting from their clients and where the communication links fail between them.
